Measures of Success	Money given to our care will be given to further the Kingdom. The budget will be balanced and an “emergency” fund maintained. The emergency fund amounts to no more than three months of the missions annual budget. The purpose for this is to have money available for unexpected missionary needs and requests that often arise. At the end of the year, excess monies are distributed to corporate missionaries as an end of the year bonus or another appropriate use of the funds The team is also dedicated to praying for our missionaries. At monthly meetings time is set aside to update the team on what is happening with our missionaries so that we can pray for them at the meeting and throughout the month. Regular reporting from corporate missionaries is required so that the team is always informed of what God is doing through the supported missionaries. As frequently as possible, missionaries are invited to Fulton Church to update the congregation and missions team about development in their lives and on the field.

	The missions team is intentional about sharing news about our missionaries with the church body. Announcements, videos, and blurbs in the bulletin have been used to assure our congregation is aware of who our missionaries are and what they are doing. A missions table is prominently positioned with missionary cards, newsletters, and pamphlets for the church to peruse. This is all intentionally done so that our congregations can pray for our missionaries.
